Energy Management Planning Pays Off

Speakers: James Meyer – Director, Centre County Airport Authority
Matt Dixon – Regional Services Manager, McClure Company
Sharon Heckman – Secretary, Millheim Borough
Jason Grottini – Energy Projects Manager, Envinity, Inc.

Significant savings are being achieved through implementation of energy management plans by many public and private sector facility managers in our region.

Mr. James Meyer and Mr. Matt Dixon will present the energy reduction activities by the Centre County Airport Authority at the University Park Airport commercial terminal as a result of their Energy Management Plan, which included air-sealing, HVAC upgrades, deep well geothermal, and lighting retrofits. Project payback, cumulative and guaranteed energy savings of this $1,327,037 capital project will be shared.

Ms. Sharon Heckman, and Mr. Jason Grottini will describe the capital costs, payback, project sequencing and savings associated with Millheim Borough's geothermal system, variable frequency drives and other energy conservation measures undertaken at several Borough facilities as part of its $237,569 multi-year Energy Management Plan.
